

KPMG Future Leaders Program 2016

KPMG is deeply committed to the advancement, development and empowerment of women. As women break glass ceilings in the workplace and excel on the international athletic stage, the influence of women will only continue to grow and affect our society for the better.

In 2015 KPMG, in collaboration with the PGA of America, the LPGA, and NBC, hosted the first ever KPMG Women's PGA Championship, to elevate the game of women's golf, and Women's Leadership Summit, to reach the next generation of women leaders to senior leadership positions in business. Accomplished women from around the country participated in Summit discussions about women in the workplace. The 2015 tournament was won by Inbee Park, a 26 year old from South Korea.

The third pillar of the initiative, the KPMG Future Leaders Program in partnership with Dr. Condoleezza Rice, will "pay it forward" to future generations of women leaders by providing leadership training to top high school senior female students from around the country preparing for their college career. The KPMG Future Leaders Program will foster a strong foundation for young women to succeed in college and ultimately in their long-term business career.

The students selected will:

- 1) Receive a KPMG Future Leaders Scholarship of $10,000 per year for 4 years of college
- 2) Attend a three-day KPMG Future Leaders Retreat the summer before their freshman year of college, at Stanford University in Stanford, CA with one parent/guardian (July 11-13, 2016)
 - Day 1: Seminars on leadership, developing business skills, public speaking, and social media
 - Day 2: Introduction to golf as a business networking tool
 - Day 3: Seminars on building a network, university resources, internships, and mentorship pairing
- 3) Actively participate in a one year KPMG Future Leaders Mentoring Program
 - Each participant will be paired with a Next Generation woman leader mentor from the KPMG Women's Leadership Summit.

Part IV: Essay Questions

Please answer the essay questions below. The final decision as to which students are selected for the KPMG Future Leaders Program will weigh heavily on the answers provided to these questions. Please be as introspective and specific as possible.

Question I: What specific challenges have you had to overcome to achieve your high school goals and education? What strategies did you use to overcome those challenges and what did you learn about your own unique capabilities? How will you apply the lessons learned to help you achieve your future goals? (No less than 250 words, no more than 500 words)

Question II: Describe three significant leadership positions that you held during your high school career. These positions can be from several different areas of your life, including but not limited to, community involvement or school services and projects, to personal or family leadership roles. What did you learn about leadership and your own leadership capabilities from each of these experiences?. Prepare approximately one paragraph for each experience. (No less than 250 words, no more than 500 words)

Question III: Identify one individual who exemplifies outstanding leadership to you. What leadership qualities do you see in them and how have they inspired you in your life? You can select an individual from your personal life, or from a variety of influences, including but not limited to, individuals in business, history, politics, athletics, the sciences or entertainment life. Provide specific examples of how their leadership styles have influenced you your own leadership style. (No less than 250 words, no more than 500 words)

Question IV: How will this award from the KPMG Future Leaders Program help you achieve your goals?
